Pricing & Presenting The Offer

Most agency owners flinch at pricing. Master this and you charge 2-3x what others do, with higher close rates. The framework + script.

Presenting Price Without Apologising

Most agency owners present price like they're embarrassed by it. 'So um, the price is, you know, £2,000... is that okay?' No. The prospect smells the weakness instantly. Confident pricing closes deals. Apologetic pricing tanks them.

→ The 4 Rules Of Pricing Presentation

RULE 1

State It, Don't Ask It

'The investment is £2,000 setup plus £147 per shown appointment.' NOT 'Would £2,000 work for you?' Stating it as fact = confidence. Asking = weakness.

RULE 2

Frame It As Investment, Not Cost

'Cost' implies expense with no return. 'Investment' implies return. 'The investment is £2K' lands very differently than 'The cost is £2K.'

RULE 3

Tie It To ROI

'£2,000 setup + £147/appointment. With 10 appointments/month at your average £3,500 ticket and 30% close rate, that's £10,500 revenue for £3,470 spent. 3x ROAS in month one.'

RULE 4

Stop Talking After You State It

After presenting price, GO SILENT. Don't fill the gap. Don't justify. Don't 'um.' The first person to talk after the price is presented loses leverage. Make them respond first.

FULL PRICING SCRIPT (PAY-PER-SHOWN MODEL)

YOU: Cool — so here's how we structure the investment.

YOU: There's a £2,000 setup fee, paid upfront. That covers the full system build — ads, landing page, automations, calendar, the whole stack. We're live in 14 days.

YOU: Then it's £147 per shown appointment. That means you only pay when we actually deliver — if someone no-shows, you don't pay. If we don't book anyone, you don't pay.

YOU: Most of our roofing clients book 8-15 shown appointments in their first 30 days. So in month one, you're looking at £1,200-£2,200 in performance fees, plus the setup. At your £3,500 average job and 30% close rate, that's £8,400-£15,750 in new revenue.

YOU: [PAUSE — wait for them to respond]

→ Pricing Models For SMMA

MODEL 1

Setup + Per Shown Appointment (PPSA)

£1,500-£3,000 setup + £100-£250 per shown appointment. Best for: most service businesses. Lower friction. Performance-aligned. The recommended default model.

MODEL 2

Setup + Per Lead (PPL)

£500-£1,500 setup + £25-£100 per lead. Best for: high-volume, lower-ticket niches. Lower per-unit cost but you charge regardless of outcome.

MODEL 3

Setup + Monthly Retainer

£1,500-£3,000 setup + £1,500-£5,000/month flat. Best for: established agencies with proven track record. Predictable revenue but harder to sign first clients.

MODEL 4

Performance-Only (No Setup)

£0 setup + £300-£500 per shown appointment. Use sparingly. No skin in the game from client = high churn. Only for established trust relationships.

→ Why The Setup Fee Matters

THE SKIN-IN-THE-GAME TEST

Clients who pay £0 upfront treat the service as disposable. Clients who pay £2,000 upfront are INVESTED. They show up to onboarding. They reply to your texts. They take it seriously. The setup fee isn't about your cash flow — it's about THEIR commitment.

→ Pricing Mistakes That Kill Closes

DON'T

- Apologetic delivery ('it's a bit much')
- Ask permission ('does that work?')
- Discount immediately if they hesitate
- Compare to competitors ('cheaper than X')
- Justify before they object
- Talk after stating the price

DO

- Confident, neutral delivery
- State as fact
- Hold firm — extract value, not discount
- Anchor to ROI, not market price
- Wait for objection — handle it
- Silent pause after price

→ Handling The First Response

RESPONSE A

'Sounds Good, How Do We Start?'

🎉 You closed. 'Awesome — I'll send the payment link to your phone now. Once that's done, let's book your onboarding call for [day]. Cool?'

RESPONSE B

Silence (5+ Seconds)

Don't break it. They're processing. They'll either say yes or raise an objection. Both are workable. Filling the silence with discounts or justifications kills the close.

RESPONSE C

'That's More Than I Expected'

Reframe: 'I hear you. What were you expecting?' Find their number. Then position value: 'Right — the reason it's £2K is because we're not selling ads — we're selling a fully built system that's profitable in month one.'

RESPONSE D

'Can You Do It For Less?'

'Honestly no — the price reflects what we deliver. What I CAN do is structure it differently — half upfront, half in 30 days. That work?' Never discount price. Extend terms instead.

RESPONSE E

'Let Me Think About It'

(Full handler in PDF 10.) Brief: 'Totally fair. What specifically do you need to think about?' Get the REAL objection. Address it. Re-close.

→ The Power Of The Anchor

Before stating your price, casually mention a bigger number to anchor:

ANCHORING EXAMPLE

YOU: So a lot of agencies in this space would quote you £5K/month or more for this — flat fee, no performance tie. We don't work that way.

YOU: We charge £2,000 setup + £147 per shown appointment. So you're only paying when we deliver. And if you compare, you're typically looking at £1,500-£2,500 total in month one — half what an agency would charge as a flat retainer.

THE PSYCHOLOGY

By anchoring at £5K first, £2K + £147/appt sounds REASONABLE. By comparison, presenting £2K + £147 cold sounds expensive. Same price. Different framing. Different close rate.

→ Pricing For Different Tiers

TIER 1

Small (£5K-15K/mo Revenue)

Lower setup (£1,000-£1,500) + standard performance fee. They can't afford big setup. Win their loyalty cheap, scale them up.

TIER 2

Mid (£15K-50K/mo Revenue)

Standard pricing: £2,000-£2,500 setup + £147-£200/appointment. Your bread and butter.

TIER 3

Large (£50K+/mo Revenue)

Premium: £3,000-£5,000 setup + £200-£400/appointment. They expect to pay more. Position as 'enterprise' tier — same system, white-glove service.

→ The Confidence Hack

THE MIRROR DRILL

Practise saying your price out loud in the mirror 20 times before your next call. Until you can say '£2,000 setup plus £147 per shown appointment' without flinching, without dropping volume, without trailing off. Confidence in delivery = confidence in close.

→ What To Send Immediately After 'Yes'

POST-YES SEQUENCE (DO DURING THE CALL)

- ✓ Send payment link to their phone via SMS DURING the call
- ✓ Watch them open it. 'Got it? Good — click the link.'
- ✓ Wait for the payment confirmation. Acknowledge it. 'Boom — payment in. Welcome aboard.'
- ✓ Book the onboarding call NOW on shared calendar
- ✓ Send onboarding welcome email immediately
- ✓ Add them to your client Slack/Skool/WhatsApp group
- ✓ End call with 'See you Thursday at 2pm — talk then.'

MINDSET RESET

Your Price Is Your Price. Own It.

Stop apologising for what you charge. Stop discounting at the first sign of resistance. Top closers charge MORE, discount LESS, and close MORE. The math is counterintuitive but proven. Hold the price. Defend the value.

END OF LESSON 08

Pricing = Mastered.

Now the closing techniques — how to ask for the decision in a way that actually gets one.
